

LABEL THE TEETH

Mammals have lots of different kinds of teeth organized in a standard way in the animal's mouth. But not all mammals have the same teeth. Here is a sketch showing the names of human teeth.

See if you can use this to help you label the teeth of these other animals.

Bonus question:

In the museum we have a narwhal tusk, which is actually a tooth. Which type of tooth do you think it might be?